THE SENIOR CLASS OF FOSTORIA HIGH SCHOOL
FOSTORIA, OHIO

DEDICATION

The class of 1955 has chosen you as the person who, we feel, has contributed much to the ideals of our high school. You have always been an inspiration to those who have known you. A friend to all and an enemy to none is the standard by which you live. Therefore, we, the class of 1955, dedicate our annual to you,

MRS. ERNESTINE WIEDEMANN

In Memory of . . .

Gerold Allen Cook

JUNE 19, 1936—NOVEMBER 23, 1953

For just a while you walked with us,
Then no more were you near.
Yet oft we think of thee,
Hold many memories dear.

In all our times of joy and fun,
Your presence lingers near.
An oft repeated phrase,
"I wish that he were here."

But as we leave school life behind,
Set sail upon life's sea.
Then oft we'll stop,
And pause to think of thee.

Recording the events of a school year is an enjoyable process, because it refreshes your mind on many activities that you had previously forgotten. From the time school opens in the fall until it closes in the spring, a continual number of good times occur. These are the experiences by which you remember the school, and the school remembers you.

FACULTY AND ADMINISTRATION...

To you, the faculty, we, the Class of 1955, would like to say thank you for the many contributions you have made in our lives.

Our activities would never have been possible without your help and guidance. You have aided many of us in choosing our future vocations.

We could always come to you in any crisis that we had to face, and we would be confident that we would be guided through them.

Our lives have been dominated by you one-half of our waking day. You have taught us the fundamentals of education, but even more important—to be better citizens in the world that is around us, to learn to abide with our fellow-men, and to realize our faults and try to correct them. From you we have learned the meaning of justice and discipline.

SUPERINTENDENT

Your Class of 1955 is much above average in general ability and wholehearted participation in the many activities of the school. Your interest in the school, your good judgment plus your willing co-operation are combinations that make for success not only in school but in later life as well. It is our sincere hope that you will always have to face challenging problems for in doing so you will be required to measure up to your best. Such experiences will result in useful and happy lives and the community in which you live will be richer for the contributions you will be able to make.

MRS. DONNA REITER

To Donna and Anna

"Glad to help and eager to please" have always been your mottoes. Without complaint you have willingly aided the students who came into either office seeking information and guidance.

As loyal boosters of the school athletic teams, you carry your pleasant personalities with you always in everything you do. Two of the nicest friends anyone ever had, we wish you the best of luck.

To The Seniors

Truly each succeeding class graduating from Fostoria High has its own unique quality.

When we evaluate the traditions of our school in sportsmanship and good citizenship we realize how much we are indebted to the leadership of the Seniors. The Class of 1955 has made a real contribution in this respect and their influence will be felt in our lives about school for years to come. Such a genuine quality of integrity and respect for decency in human relations has seldom been equalled and never surpassed in Fostoria High School.

The next decade or two will see many of these fine people in significant positions of leadership in a wider world and may we wish for them the courage to maintain these sterling qualities of leadership.

SENIORS . . .

S.K.BENDER

The end of the long road to the future is nearing completion. During our long climb upward we have faced many crises and increased our knowledge in many ways.

Scholarship has been a major part of our high school years, but also important were the activities and good times. After we leave high school we will be heard to say many times "Remember when . . . ?" A few of these that we might name are . . . remember our first day in the seventh grade when we came into the auditorium like little lost sheep . . . working long hours on our Ohio History notebooks . . . we were first allowed at the Senior High dances . . . we joined all our clubs and chose the activities in which we wished to participate . . . our happy times in Sophomore heaven and sitting in the "Peanut Gallery" at assemblies . . . the proms, plays, the gab sessions in the locker rooms . . . the first time that we came into 329 as one class, and walked down the aisle in assembly while everyone paid us respect as Seniors. Then in a few days you can say, "Remember when we were graduated from FHS?" Yes, there are a lot of things to remember about school days—they play an important part in everyone's life.

POEM

Everyday brings a challenge new,
A difficult task for us to do.
Something that's never been done
before,
Something that will take your best,
then a little more.
Some will gain wealth; others, fame,
To many, life will be but a game.
But one and all must run the race,
'Tis up to each to find his pace.
We each have goals we hope to reach,
And each a doctrine of good to preach.
Some will go silently, others will be heard,
One step at a time, but always forward.

UNDERCLASSMEN . . .

S.K. BENDER

The fate of the high school and its traditions rests in the hands of the underclassmen. To you falls the task of continuing the standards set by those who have gone before. Keep them high in all that you do—clubs, music, drama, sports, and classwork. The memories of your school days, whether they are sad or happy, are the ones that will linger longest with you in the years to come.

President: Art Hoff

Vice-President: Laquita Flannery

Treasurer: Karlton Rothgeb

Secretary: Susan Layton

Homeroom Presidents: Mary Ann Dalton, Art Hoff, Pat Luman, Chuckie Stocker

JUNIORS

You've had a lot of fun this year as juniors. Things have happened that you'll never forget—your vigorous campaign for class officers, the class play, (which, by the way, was the best ever), the beautiful prom you gave for the seniors, the many, many hours you devoted to school activities, and last of all, the day of senior assembly when you moved into the senior seats as Stretch accepted the gavel from Jim. Next year is a rugged one for you. There will be disappointments, a lot of hard work, but you'll be left with the memory of a wonderful year as a Senior, and proud that you were graduated from FHS.

SOPHOMORES

Your first year as one of the upper classmen has been a memorable one for you. You were given your choice of many clubs to join—this naturally included Hi-Y initiations, the embarrassing day when you tried out for choir, the one-act play contest, the big dances you attended, and the gay times you had in 'seventh heaven' on the fourth floor. Next year you'll have club elections, a class play of your own, and a prom to which you can look forward. Each year of high school is more important to you. You will always treasure your high-school days, so strive to make them days of which you can be proud.

At last a title—first year legally allowed at the dances after the games and finally part of the senior high. It gave you a big feeling to be the “seniors” of the junior high though. Are you all satisfied with the selection of subjects you chose to prepare yourself for later life? Make those choices count. You’ve at last been demoted from the ‘shelf’ to the far corners in the auditorium. Seems like a long way from the front row, doesn’t it? Just wait, Froshies, it comes sooner than you think. Next year is one more step along the way.

EIGHTH GRADE

You've moved another step on your climb upward. This year has held many memories for you, noon basketball games, Junior high dances, the spelling contest, and of course, the many hours you've spent on your Ohio History notebooks. Next year your activities will increase as you become more involved in your high-school career. Choose your activities with care and enter as many as you can. School work is important, but equally so are your extra-curricular activities. Have a well rounded school life and you will enjoy it more.

SEVENTH GRADE

You've received a lot of playful ribbing this year as seventh graders. You've been yelled at for running in the halls, lost your way when going to classes, been knocked around by the upper classmen, and generally neglected. But now you've started your climb upward, and the years will pass quickly until soon you'll be a senior. But don't neglect your Junior High years. Make the most of your opportunities, and you'll be well prepared for your days as an upper classman.

DRAMATICS

Highlighting the school year have been the four dramatic productions: the All-school Play, the One-Acts, and the Junior and Senior Class Plays.

These were the large productions, but not to be neglected are the numerous one act plays sponsored by Omicron Lambda, which have been presented at many functions. All plays represent a lot of hard work on the part of the cast and crew. Their reward comes on the final night, when they receive the applause and curtain calls that symbolize their success. Students can be very proud of our dramatics department which is under the direction of Mr. David Thompson.

MUSIC

Music has played an important role in the curricula at Fostoria High. The directors, Mr. Middleton, Mr. Downs, and Miss Slotterbeck have always produced musical organizations worthy of recognition.

Regional contests entered by the band, orchestra, and choir each spring, and winter and spring concerts always show fine results. Instrumental and vocal groups have entertained at many functions throughout the year. The Double Octette was again honored by singing on WSPD-TV during the Christmas season.

Everyone who has heard the music groups at FHS know they are of high quality.

ACTIVITIES . . .

A very important part of each student's school life is spent in participating in school activities. Every personality can find its niche. Journalism, dramatics, music, sports, honoraries, vocations, and service clubs offer a variety of extra-curricular activities. But there are other groups that are often forgotten when thinking of activities—traffic patrol, cafeteria staff, hall monitors, and of course, the inevitable magazine campaign. All of these clubs and groups deserve recognition, because they do many worthwhile things for the school and the people of Fostoria. Devote as much time as you can afford to these activities; they will repay you in many ways.

"We believe that good sportsmanship, like good character, is developed by conscious effort. We believe that this development is an important part of our school program."

—Fostoria High School Sportsmanship Code

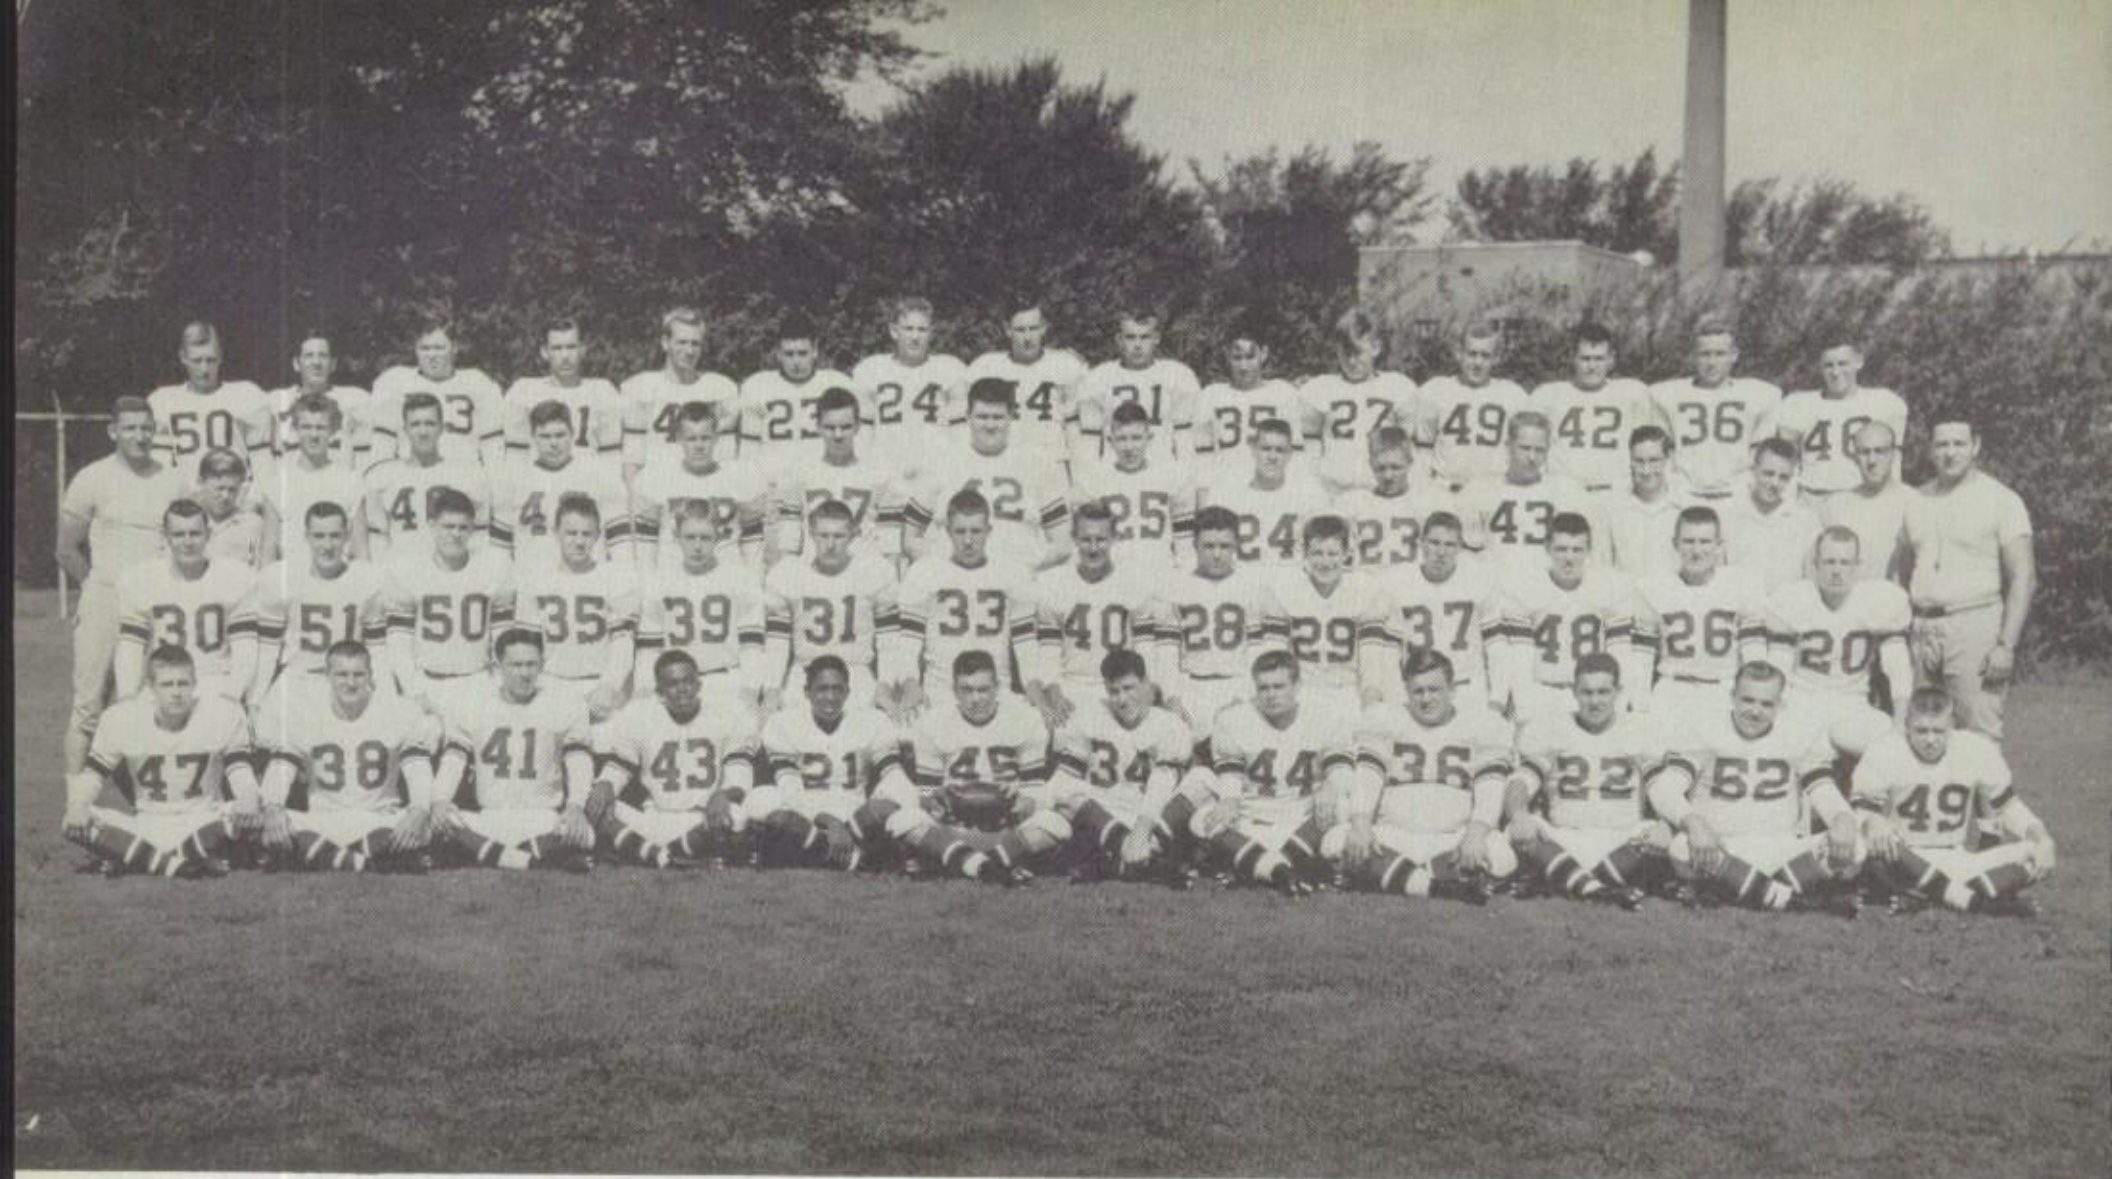

This Sportsmanship Code was adopted this year by the Student Council. It fully expresses the feeling of the student body toward all our active sports—football, basketball, wrestling and track.

Good sportsmanship and school spirit have always excelled to the fullest at Fostoria High. Whether the scores fall in the win or loss column, we can always be sure that our teams have played to their fullest endeavor.

Thanks, fellows, for another outstanding sports year.

Hats off to the Redmen on their fine showing this season. Although our record stands at 5-11, we're still proud of the games our boys played.

"I feel that our boys never quite reached the potentials they could have," said Coach Wilson. "They were one of the best bunch of boys I've ever experienced working with. Even when they were down, they were never out and were always in there giving their best."

Bob Shaw, Jim McClung, and Chuckie Jackson, the only senior team members, have made outstanding contributions to the squad.

The Papooses did a grand job of ball playing in the 1955 season with Coach Ralph Boroff adding much to this eleven with his fine coaching and assistance. Not only were these sophomores and juniors in there pinch hitting for their own team, but occasionally moved one step higher to show their skills with the Varsity team. With one or two years ahead of these boys, we can all look forward to the wins and grand games in the '56-'57 seasons.

ADVERTISING

S.K. BENDER

Merchants throughout the world display their wares through advertising. The FOHIRAB is very happy to include in its pages the advertisements of community and area merchants. They have, during the past years, contributed quite generously to those from the journalism department who have sought their aid in making both publications, the JOURNAL and the FOHIRAB, possible. They have helped us not only through financial aid, but in supporting and encouraging us in the many projects which we strive to undertake.

The FOHIRAB staff sincerely hopes that the student body will show their appreciation to these merchants by patronizing them in every way they can.
